Any art or jewelry incorporating sea glass is acceptable and completely open to creative interpretation.

Next preference will be fine artists that incorporate ocean inspired themes into their medium.

Electricity Agreement

The Santa Barbara Sea Glass & Ocean Arts Festival works hard to provide a successful venue for its Vendors by offering electricity to those Vendors whose displays require illumination. Vendors should be aware that there are limited booth locations that can accommodate electrical hook-ups.

The Santa Barbara Sea Glass & Ocean Arts Festival will provide, for a fee of $50 per booth. Vendor is to provide their own extension cords. No more than a total of 600 watts may be plugged in. Vendor can plug in only two cords (in good, working condition) and cannot further split the lines beyond that. Only the use of LED or CFL lighting is allowed, as they use much less power than incandescent or halogen lights.

Any violations of these requirements, or any condition deemed unsafe during the Fire Marshall's inspection, shall result in the Vendor being denied power. We do not want this to happen, and we imagine you don't either. Please take note of these requirements, and contact us if you have any questions.

The Santa Barbara Sea Glass & Ocean Arts Festival and the Santa Barbara Fire Department reserve the right to refuse power to any Vendor who disregards these requirements or whose equipment poses a fire hazard. In such an event, the Vendor's electrical fee will not be returned.
